Little Paragraphs That will Interest Every Member of the Household

Don't think about your troubles—work harder and you will forget them.

During the first seven months of this year 701 automobiles have been imported.

Dress well, look prosperous, appear cheerful. Everyone judges by appearances.

Bank Wrecker Stensland don't know so much about it being "Home, Sweet Home.

Spain is saving large sums of money every day by not having Cuba on its hands now.

There are 90 inhabitants in Woodruff, Wis., and there are 15 saloons and one general store. There is a closing ordinance, but that applies to the store.

The United States consumes 26,871,700 barrels of salt annually or a barrel for every three persons in the land. Last year it went abroad for only 1,151,135 barrels.

A prominent man once said, "The only difference between a rut and a grave is the width and depth." So don't get into a rut, but learn how other men do business.

As evidence that the Indian Territory has reached a stage of civilization that entitles her to statehood, one druggist is advertising "house paint, face paint and nose paint.

More than 11,000,000 pieces of mail went astray in these United States last year because they were not directed well enough for the experts to decipher the names and addresses.

New York is the second great seaport of the wold. In 1903 over nine million tons of imports and eight million seven hundred thousand tons of exports were thru New York Harbor.

An exchange remarks that "a St Louis woman who was sued for payment of a costly pair of corsets will endeavor to prove in court that they did not fit her snugly." St. Louis is in Missouri, you know.

The school census gives Chicago a population of 1,780,000, whereas the city directory's estimate is 2,300,000. We can't help believing that there is carelessness somewhere in connection with these guesses.

Secretary Shaw has figured it out that Uncle Sam will need $624,562,146.07 next year. We will cheerfully contribute the seven cents if other generous nephews of our good uncle will look after the remainder.

"You can't tell a man from Chicago—anything." That answer won the $10 prize for the following question "How can you tell a Chicagoan?" The second prize was given to a woman from Goshen, Ind., who said "Whisper canned meat" and "look at his wife's feet."

Is there anything more exasperating than to have somebody who is talking to look over your head, or to one side of you all the time he is trying to convey his thought on you? If a man will not look you in the eye while he talks, you may be pretty sure that you will not lose much if you turn your ears in another direction.

Did you ever watch the man with nothing to do? Well, he has the hardest job of any one we ever studied. Loafing and idling time away may look good to the man who is putting in ten hours daily for six days out of the week, but let him loaf for a couple of weeks and the chances are he will be the most unhappy and discontented man in town.

Forty years ago the seven great London hospitals spent annually for alcohol $40,000, and $10,000 for milk. Now the larger sum is spent for milk and the smaller for alcohol. In the infirmary at Salisbury twenty-five years ago $1,500 a year was spent for alcholic liquors. In 1095 it was only $35. This is due to greater knowledge of its nature and effects.

A man went into an undertaker's shop the other day almost over-whelmed with grief. The kind undertaker soothed the caller as best he could before asking for the order. Finally the man was able to tell what the trouble was: "I have lost my wife," he sobbed, and then with one supreme effort he continued, "and I would sooner have lost the best cow on the place."

A southern editor is author of this information: Some of you fellows who never had a million dollars, like we editors, do not know, of course, of just what the big pile consists. We will put you on. When you have a million one-dollar bills, and pile them up flat on one another, and want to reach the top, you have to climb up 27 feet. If you take them down end to end, you would have to walk nearly twelve miles. If you had the amount in silver dollars, the pile would be a mile and a half high. And so on.

Bow low your head, do revercence to the old man once like you. The vicissitudes of life have silvered his hair and changed the round merry face to the worn visage before you. Once the heart beat with aspirations, crushed by disappointment as yours, perhaps, is destined to be. Once that form stalked proudly through gay scenes of pleasure the beau ideal of grace; now the hand of time that withers the flowers of yesterday, has bent that figure and destroyed that noble carriage. Once, at your age, he possessed the thousand thoughts that pass through your brain, now wishing to accomplish deeds equal to a nook in fame anon imagining life a dream, that sooner he awoke from it the better. But he has lived the dream near through the time to awaken is very near at hand; his eye never kindles at old deeds of daring, and the hand takes a firmer grasp of the staff Bow low the head, as you would in your old age be reverenced.

DR. SKINNER AND DAUGHTER KILLED

Their Horse Ran Away at Porters Station on Saturday

Their horse suddenly bolting and becoming fractious, Dr. William T. Skinner and his daughter, Miss Maria Clark Skinner of Glasgow, were so badly battered by iron-shod hoofs of the animal late on Saturday afternoon that both died of their injuries. Dr. Skinner lived but a short time after his skull had been cleft by the horse's but Miss Skinner lived for several hours, she being taken to Wilmington in an effort so save her life; but she was too badly wounded to survive.

Miss Skinner had been to Philadelphia and was returning on the Delaware Railroad train due at Porter's station at 4.12 o'clock. Dr. Skinner had driven to Porter's to meet her and drive with her to his home, about two miles away between Porter's and Newark. They had driven about one hundred yards from the station when the horse become frightened, presumably at the train and reared about.

So sharp was the turn of the beast that he carriage was upset and Dr. Skinner and his daughter were thrown directly behind the plunging hoofs of the ainmal, which struck the physicians and Miss Skinner several times. The crew of the Delaware City accommodation train ran to the place and grabbed the horse and dragged Dr. Skinner and his daughter from their dangerous position.

The physician was unconscious, and a hole in his skull exposing his brains, indicoted only too plainly that his wounds were fatal. The limp form of Dr. Skinner was carried to the station. Dr. Frank P. Bellville of Delaware City, happened to be there awaiting the departure of a train for home, and he ministered to the injured physician. There was no hope of saving his life. however, and he died within half an hour.

Miss Skinner was taken to the home of J. H. Compton, the station agent, where Dr. Bellville attended her. She was partly conscious although, her skull had been fractured her armbroken and her back wrenched. She was removed to Wilmington on the evening train and was removed to the Delaware Hospital where everything was done to try to save her life, but death came about 9 o'clock.

THE FARM, GARDEN AND DAIRY

Short Pungant Paragraphs Gathered Here and There

Poultry and eggs continue to be the most valuable farm products in spite of bumper crops.

The Cuban government has purchased 500 horses to be used in the rebillion in that republic and want 1,500 more.

America can and will under certain conditions grow over 30,000,000 bales of cotton, nearly three times as much as is now grown.

Farm lands in America have increased in value six billion dollars since 1900; in other words, in the past five years the increase of value amounted to one-third,

It is said that the Government is doing all possible to aid the State of Florida in its effort to drain the Everglades and thereby reclaim 1,000,000 acres of virgin soil

Nebraska expects to have enought corn this year to feed the civilized peoples of the world for six months, if necessary. Let the geal trust beware. We can all burn corn next winter, if necessary.

If every farmer would be as presistant cleaning the roadsides of weeds as the railroades are in keeping the railroads are in keeping their right of way clean, it would add greatly to the beauty of the country. Compare some of the public roads with the railroads and the former suffers by comparison.

Make a bin in the stable and store up several loads of dry loam dust those hot days. It is invaluable in keeping down stable ordor and in catching and holding ammonia and stable liquids that otherwise would waste. This dust is as valuable as plaster an may be saftely considered worth $2 per load. It is indispensable in the poultry house also.

The cotton crop of India was larger last year, 1905, the general average. About 20,000,000 acres were planted in cotton and the yield was about 3,500,000 blades. During the year there were exported from India to other countries over 2,125,000 bales of raw cotton at a value of ovea $81,000,000, the four countries, Japan Germany Belgium and Italy, in the order named, being the largest purchasers, they together buying nearly 1,500,000 bales of Indian cotton, while Japan alone took nearly 5000,000 bales.

OUR WOMAN S COLUMN

The oldest lighthouse keeper in America is a woman.

Women retain their vitality and spirits longer than men do.

Whining never found happiness, and certainly it never kept it.

Open up the doors of your heart. There's nothing very inviting about a jail.

The woman old in years but young in spirit is the sweetest blessing mankind knows.

Do not forget that women had no small share in getting the pure food bill passed by congress.

There are different kinds of misers. With some it is money and with others it's comforts.

If you can overcome your troubles, do so. If you cannot overcome them, endure them. Worry won't help.

Women grow old through fretting more than men. The routine of home life and duties are wearisome and wearing.

If is said if fresh apples are eaten with salt after every meal they will cure indigestion and make the skin beautiful.

Mrs. Rebecca Brewer, of Swedesboro, has worn the same bonnet for thirty-two summers. Mrs. Brewer is 88 years old.

Pay heed to criticisms of an enemy They often teach you more about yourself than do the complents of a friend.

A new variety of cripple is now demanding relief at the hands of the physician and esteopath. She is the French heel cripple.

A pretty treatment of sleeves is to make them in modified leg o'-mutton style, with the embroidery concentrated mostly at the cuff.

One of the largest maternity hospitals in the world will be erected in Chicago, according to plans of the Daughters of the Revolution.

Out in Berkeley, Cal,, a woman's club has just been organized, the name of which has been candidly announced as the Darning and Gossip club.

A Georgia judge has decided that it is every man's duty to kiss his wife at least once a day, the best time being when he gets home at night.

Shirtwaists are the waists of society these days, for, in spite of the edict that the separate waist shall not be worn women are wearing more than ever.

Stripes and still more stripes, are being used but the ways the stripe is achieved have surely taxed the ingenuity of designers and manufacturers to the utmost.

The summer girl in bare arms arrayed in white and attractive peek-a-boo waist will soon give place to the autumn girl in colors and other bewitching adornments.

It is not generally known that Uncle Sam employes no less than thirty-two women to attend to the lighthouses of the United States. She pay is from $500 to $650 a year.

Be polite to your children. Do you expect them to be mindful of your welfare, so grow glad at your approach, to found away, to do your pleasure before your request is half spoken?

Of course, walking suitt have the short skirt, which in nine cases out of ten is circular, like the longer ones. But, after all, longer skirts are gaining in favor more and more every day.

A new story relates that a boy said that he knew the name of the beau sister had in the parlor last night. It was George Don't. He had heard her call him George Don't a dozen times or more.

The American woman is apt to have a figure. At the age of 30 her waist line begins to thicken and by the time she is so wide and so high that you would not recognize it as a belt line.

According to the Jewish religion the maidens of that race are only allowed one kiss before marriage and that is at the time the engagement is made. My, but the average American girl must envy the Jewish maiden her lost opportunities.

Courtesy to women, young and old, should be part of every boy's home training. Without it he is likely to be boorish and selfish and a rude, overbearing brother and son is in danger of developing into an exacting, discourteous husband.

Large hips are no longer considered beautiful. By having skirts carefully cut so as to give fullness at the back and hips one can create a better figure. Hip pads are, of course, quite impossible; only the foolish girls will think of wearing them.

A Massachusetts woman, Mrs. Mary Barrows, has been cured of leprosy at the state leper colony on the island of Penikese and discharged therefrom after having been detained two years. The physicians say that leprosy invariably responds to proper treatment.

A woman's club in an Illinois town has has been earning $100 a month selling cheap, hygienic and palatable lunches to school children. Is not that better than standing up with white kid gloves on and reading long, dull papers full of shallow platitudes filched out of encyclopsdias?

The Republican primaries on Saturday passed off quietly, notwithstanding the fact that a large vote was polled. In the third district, 103 votes were cast.

W. Burton Lienburger's meat market is closed for a few days, owing to the death of his grandfather, who died in Smyrna Sunday evening.
